Chapter IV: Vayeira (Gen. 18:1-22:24)

Essay 7. Sarah's pregnancy

ַּבֶּסוּק "וְאַבְרָהָם וְשָׁרָה זְקֵנִים בָּאִים בַּיָּמִים חָדֵל לְהִיוֹת" וְכוּ' "וַתִּצְחַק שָׂרָה" וְכוּ'. קֵשֶׁה מָה עִנְיָן לְהַזְכִּיר כָּאן שֶׁאַבְרָהָם הָיָה "וְאַדָּה זְקֵנָה חָדֵל לְהִיוֹת" וְכוּ', וּמַהוּ "בָּאִים בַּיָּמִים". וְעוֹד לָמָה שָׂרָה אָמְרָה "וַאַדֹּנִי זְקֵן" הָיָה לִוֹיִי זְקֵן" וְמִּה שָׁבָרה אָמְרָה "וַאַנִי זָקְנְתִּי".

Verse[s] state:

[The angels] said to him, "Where is your wife, Sarah?" And he replied, "There, in the tent." Then one said, "I will surely return to you next year, and your wife Sarah shall have a son!" Sarah was listening at the entrance of the tent, which was behind him. And Abraham and Sarah were old, advanced in age; Sarah had stopped having the way of women. And Sarah laughed to herself, saying, "Now that I'm worn out, am I to have enjoyment—and my husband is old?" Then the L-rd said to Abraham, "Why did Sarah laugh, saying, 'Shall I in truth bear a child, old as I am?"

- Gen. 18:9–13

A question is what is the relevance to mention here that Abraham was old? It could have simply said, "And Sarah was old; Sarah had stopped having the way of women."

Also, what is the reason for adding "advanced in years"?

Also, why did Sarah say, "and my husband is old," and the Holy One, Blessed be He, said that Sarah said, "and I am old."

The Mishnah in Niddah explains that for women with a fixed menstrual cycle, they begin transmitting ritual impurity from when they see blood. For most women who do not have a fixed menstrual cycle, if they suddenly discover blood, they transmit ritual impurity retroactively for 24 hours.¹ Rabbi Eliezer then teaches an exception, that there are four types of women whom would not transmit ritual impurity retroactively: a virgin, a pregnant woman, a nursing mother, and an elderly woman.² The Mishnah then asks:

Who is an elderly woman? One for whom three cycles passed [during which she saw no menstrual blood, at a stage of her life] close to her old age.

Rabbi Eliezer says: A woman for whom three cycles passed [during which she saw no menstrual blood, if she then experiences bleeding], her time is sufficient [i.e., there is no retroactive transmission of ritual impurity].

- Niddah 1:5

This last statement of Rabbi Eliezer does not appear to be limited to elderly women, but as will be discussed below, the Rabbis determine that this halacha applies only to an older woman or to a woman after childbirth, for whom it is natural to stop menstruating, but not to a normal young woman for whom three periods have passed without bleeding.

And it is taught in the Gemara of Niddah (page 9a):

[The Mishnah teaches:] Who is [the woman characterized as] an elderly woman? [It is] any [woman for] whom three [typical menstrual] cycles [of thirty days] passed [at a stage of her life] close to her old age, [during which she saw no menstrual blood].

[The Gemara asks]: What is considered close to old age? Rav Yehuda says: Any [woman] about whom her friends say that she is an elderly woman. And Rabbi Shimon says: It is any woman who is old enough that people call her: Mother, Mother, and she is not embarrassed.

- Niddah 9a-b

The Tosafot explain there that it is someone for whom it is proper to call her "Mother," and the sugya³ is long.

The ruling of law is like Rabbi Eliezer, who taught in the Mishnah cited above that, "Four women [who discern menstrual blood and] their time is sufficient, [i.e., they transmit impurity only from the moment that they saw the blood]: A virgin, a pregnant woman, a nursing woman, and an elderly woman."

However, the law does not follow Rabbi Eliezer's opinion that even for a young "woman for whom three cycles passed [during which she saw no menstrual blood, if she then experiences bleeding], her time is sufficient [i.e., there is no retroactive transmission of ritual impurity]." Rather, if they are not elderly, even if they have passed more than three cycles, they always transmit impurity retroactively for 24 hours. However, elderly women who have passed three cycles close to old age, their time is sufficient [i.e., there is no retroactive transmission of ritual impurity].

And in the Gemara, there is a question: "What is considered 'close to old age'? It is anyone worthy of being called 'Mother.' "

The Scripture states, "And Sarah laughed to herself, saying, 'Now that I'm worn out," how is it possible that after I'm worn out, now that I have grown old, that the periods will return to me and I will be like the other women? This is difficult, since at that time there was no old age in the world, as it is said in the 7th chapter of tractate Bava Metzia, "Until Abraham, there was no aging [i.e., old age was not physically recognizable]. One who wanted to speak to Abraham [would mistakenly] speak to Isaac [and vice versa]. . . . Abraham came and prayed for mercy, and aging was [at last noticeable]." Then aging was created, and therefore the rule of "three [typical menstrual] cycles [of thirty days] passed [at a stage of her life] close to her old age" did not yet exist in the world, and she was still like other women. It's necessary to say according to the solution of the Maharsha there, that indeed, old age in terms of someone having lived many years existed in the world, but old age wasn't recognizable, such as whitening of the hair, etc. Therefore, it's fine that Sarah said, "After I'm worn out," etc., as old age was present in the world.

וּכְדֵי שֶׁלֹּא תּאֹמֵר שֶׁאָם הִיא הַוְּקֵינָה דִּילְמָא אַבְרָהָם לֹא הַוְּקֵין, שֶׁכֵּן דֶּרֶדְּ הָאֲנָשִׁים שֶׁאֵינָם מַזְקִינִים כָּל כָּדְּ מַהֵּר כְּמוֹ הַנָּשִׁים, וְאֵינוֹ כָּל כָּדְ רָחוֹק מִן הַשֶּׁבַע שֶׁתּוֹלִיד הָאִשָּׁה כְּשָׁבַּעְלָהּ רָאוּי לְהוֹלִיד, לָכֵן הוֹסִיפָה "נִאדֹנִי זָקֵן", וְאִמְרוּ בְּמִדְרָשׁ טוֹחֵן וְאֵינוֹ פּוֹלֵט, אַדְּ לֹא הָיְתָה כַּנְּונָתָה לוֹמֵר שֶׁאַבְרָהָם הָיָה זָקֵן בִּלְשׁוֹן בִּיזּוּי לְאַבְרָהָם. וּכְדֵי שֶׁאַבְרָהָם לֹא יִטְעֶה בִּלְשׁוֹנָה, אָמְרָה לוֹ פָּאִים פָּאִים לְּפְשׁוֹטוֹ, "הַאּף אֻמְנָם אֵלֵד וַאֲנִי זָקְנְהִי", כְּלוֹמֵר שֶׁאָבַדְתִּי טֶבע הַהוֹלְדָה. וּמְשׁוּם הָכִי אָמֵר "וְאַבְרָהָם וְשָׂרָה זְקַנִים בָּאִים בָּיִמִה זְקְנָה לְפִי שֶׁבָּאָה בְּיָמִים, כְּמוֹ שֶׁפֵּיִרְשׁוּ הַתּוֹסְפוֹת שֶׁרְאוּיָה בַּיָּמִים", אַף עַל פִּי שֶׁלֹּא הָיְתָה הַזְּקְנָה מַמְשׁ, מִכָּל מָקוֹם שָׂרָה הָיְתָה זְקְנָה לְפִי שֶׁבָּאָה בְּיָמִים, לְּמֵן הִיּל לְהְיוֹת לְשָׁרָה אוֹרַח כְּנְשִׁים לֹהְיוֹת מְטַמְאָה מֵעֵת לְעֵת וְכוּן אֶלָא הִיא כִּזְקנָה שַׁרְיִיה שַׁצְתָה.

So that one might not say that perhaps only she had aged, while Abraham had not aged—for it is common for men not to age as quickly as women, and it is not so far from nature for a woman to conceive if her husband is capable of fathering—she added, "and my master is old." The Midrash interprets this as meaning that he was "grinding but not emitting," i.e., trying to impregnate her, without success. However, her intention was not to refer to Abraham as old in a derogatory manner. To prevent Abraham from misunderstanding her words, she expressed it plainly to him, saying, "Shall I in truth bear a child, old as I am," as if to say that "I have lost the natural ability to conceive." That is why it is written, "And Abraham and Sarah were old, advanced in age." Even though old age did not fully exist yet, nevertheless, Sarah was considered old because she was advanced in years, as Tosafot explained, she was worthy of being called "Mother." Because of this, Sarah no longer had a woman's cycle and was therefore not subject to the usual state of impurity retroactively for 24 hours. Instead, she was as an elderly woman, and her time was sufficient [i.e., in the event of seeing blood, there was no retroactive transmission of ritual impurity].

וּבְזֶה יָצָא לָנוּ טַעַם לְשַׁבֵּחַ לָמָה הִמְמִין לָה שָׁנָה אַחַת, לְפִי שֶׁפֵּירֵשׁ רַשִּׁ"י ע"ה עַל פָּסוּק "כְּעַת חַיָּה", וּפָּסח הָיָה, וּלְפֶּסח הַבָּא נוֹלַד יִצְחָק, וְהַלֹּא הָיָה דִּי לָה תִּשְׁעָה חֹדָשִׁים לָהֵרָיוֹן וְלָמָה הוּצְרְכוּ שְׁאָר הַשְׁלֹשָׁה חֹדָשִׁים. מִפְּנֵי שֶׁמְּקְבֵּע לָה וָּסֶת, וּכְדֵי שֶׁתִּהְיֶה כִּשְׁאַר הַנְּשִׁים רָצָה שֶׁתִּקְבַּע לָה וָּסֶת שְׁלֹשָׁה לְחֹדֶשׁ, וְהַזְּקָנָה צְרִיכָה שֶׁתִּרְאָה שָׁלוֹשׁ פְּעָמִים עַד שֶׁתִּקְבַּע לָה וָּסֶת, וּכְדֵי שֶׁתִּהְיֶה כִּשְׁאַר הַנְּשִׁים רָצָה שֶׁתִּקבּע לָה וָּסֶת שְׁלֹשָׁה פְּעָמִים וְאָחֵר כָּךְ תִּתְעַבֵּר.

With this, we find a praiseworthy reason why [the angel] waited a full year for her before he returned, for Rashi, of blessed memory, explained on the verse, "Then one said, 'I will surely return to you next year, and your wife Sarah shall have a son," that it was Passover, and the following Passover, Isaac was born. Weren't nine months enough for pregnancy? Why were the remaining three months required? Because a typical menstrual cycle is from month to month, and an elderly woman must experience her cycle three times for it to be established as regular. In order for her to be like other women, [G-d] wished her cycle to be established three times before she would conceive.

ְוִיצְדַּק לְפִי זֶה מֵה שֶׁפֵּירְשׁוּ הַמְּפָּרְשִׁים "נִיּאמֶר הִנֵּה בָאֹהֶל" וְכוּ' שֶׁהֵם הָיוּ נוֹהֲגִים שֶׁכָּל אִשֶּה שֶׁהָיְתָה רוֹאָה נִדָּה הָיְתָה יוֹשֶׁבֶת בְּאֹהֶל שְׁכִּיל הְנִּה הָנָּפֶל בְּילוֹמֵר פִירְסָה נִדָּה וְלָכֵן הִיא יוֹשֶׁבֶת בָּאֹהֶל עכ"ל. וְאֶפְשִׁר נָמִי שֻׁזָּהוּ הַכֶּפֶל שְׁלָר מְיוֹחָד לָהָם "נִיּאמֶר שְׁנִּי בְּעָת הַנָּשִׁים, וְאַחַר כָּךְ שֶׁל "נִיּאמֶר שׁוֹב אָשׁוּב אָלֶיךּ כָּעֵת חַיָּה", שֶׁעָתִיד לַחְזוֹר לָה הַנָּסֶת שְׁתֵּי פְּעָמִים אֲחֵרוֹת כְּדוּגְמֵת שְׁאַר הַנְּשִׁים, וְאַחַר כָּךְ "וְהָצֵּה־בֵּן לִשַּׂרָה אִשְׁתֵּדְּ".

This supports what the commentators explained about the phrase, "And he replied, 'There, in the tent,' " that it was customary for any woman who became menstruating to sit in a separate room designated for a menstruating woman. Thus, he answered them, "There, in the tent," meaning that she had her period and therefore was sitting in the tent.

It's also possible that this is the reason for the duplication of the root "return," [שׁוֹב אָשׁוֹב] [shov ashuv], rendered in translation as "I will surely return," in the text, "Then one said, "I will surely return to you next year." That is, that in the future her period would return two more times, similar to other women, and then "and your wife Sarah shall have a son!"
