Chapter VIII: Vayishlach (Gen. 32:4–36:43)

Essay 5. A prayer against uninterrupted hardship

בְּבָּה עַל פָּסוּק "וַיִּתֵּן בְּיַד־עֲבָדָיו עֵדֶר עֵדֶר לְבַדּוֹ", מַהוּ "וְרָוַח תָּשִׂימוּ". אָמַר יַעֲקֹב לְפְנֵי הקב"ה רְבּוֹנוֹ שֶׁל עוֹלְם אָם יִהְיוּ צָרוֹת בָּאוֹת עַל בָּנֵי לֹא תָבִיא אוֹתָם זוֹ אַחַר זוֹ, אֶלֶּא הַרְנַח לָהֶם מִצְרוֹתִיהֶם עכ"ל. צָריך עִיּוּן מָה עִנְיָן הְּפִלָּה זוֹ, אָמָ אַ דִּעְהָב לְהִתְּפַלֵּל עַל זָה.
וּמַה סָלְקָא דַּעָהָּל עַל זָה.

There is a Midrash Rabbah on the verse, "These he put in the charge of his servants, drove by drove, and he told his servants, 'Go on ahead, and keep a distance between droves.' "1

What is [the meaning of] "keep a distance"? Jacob said before the Holy One, Blessed be He: "Master of the universe, if troubles will befall my descendants, do not bring them one after another, but rather, create distance for them between their troubles."

- Gen. Rabbah 75:13

Investigation is required what the meaning of this prayer is, and what could have led one to think that the Holy One, Blessed be He, would bring all the troubles upon them at once, so that Jacob would need to pray about this.

ְנָרְאֶה שֶׁזֶּה תָּלוּי בַּמַּחֲלוֹקֶת רַשִּׁ"י וְתוֹסָפוֹת בְּקדּוּשִׁין כֶּּרֶק קַמָּא וְכָל הָעוֹשֶׁה מִצְנָה אַחַת יְתֵירָה עַל זְכִיּוֹתִיו מְטִבִּיין לוֹ? וּרְמִינְהוּ: כֹּל שֻׁזְּכִיּוֹתִיו מְרוּבִּין מֵעֲוֹנוֹתִיו – מְרִיעִין לוֹ, וְדוֹמֶה כְּמִי שֶׁשַּׁרַף כָּל הַתּוֹרָה כֵּלָּה וְלֹא שָׁיֵּר מְמֶנָּה אֲפִילוּ אוֹת אַחַת. אָמַר וְכֹל שֶׁעֲוֹנוֹתִיו מְרוּבִין מִזְּכִיּוֹתִיו – מְטִיבִין לוֹ, וְדוֹמֶה כְּמִי שֶׁקְיֵים כָּל הַתּוֹרָה כֵּלָּה וְלֹא חָסֵר מִמֶּנָּה אֲפִילוּ אוֹת אַחַת. אָמַר אַבָּיֵ: מַתְנִיתִין דְּעָבָדִין לֵיהּ יוֹם טָב וָיוֹם בִּישׁ.

And it seems that this depends on the dispute between Rashi and Tosafot in Kiddushin, chapter one, where the Gemara states:

Does anyone who performs one mitzvah in addition to his [other] merits have goodness bestowed upon him [in this world]?

[The Gemara] raises a contradiction [from a Baraita]: Anyone whose merits are greater than his sins is punished with suffering [in order to cleanse his sins in this world and enable him to merit full reward for his mitzvot in the World-to-Come]. [Due to this punishment,] he appears [to observers] like one who burned the entire Torah without leaving even one letter remaining of it.

[Conversely,] anyone whose sins are greater than his merits has goodness bestowed upon him [in this world], and he appears like one who has fulfilled the entire Torah without it lacking even one letter.

Abaye said: [When] the Mishnah [said that he is rewarded, it means] that he has a good day and a bad day. [I.e., he is rewarded for the mitzvot he performs, but he sometimes has bad days which cleanse him of his sins. The Baraita is referring to those bad days.]

- Kiddushin 39b

וּפֵרֵשׁ רַשִּׁ"י יוֹם טָב וְיוֹם בִּישׁ, מִי שֶׁעוֹשֶׁה מִצְנָה אַחַת יְתֵירָה, דְּהָנֵי רוּבָּא זְכִיּוֹת, מְתַקְנִין לוֹ בָּעוֹלָם הַזֶּה יוֹם טוֹב שֶׁנְפְּרָעִין מִמֶּנּוּ עֲוֹנֹתִיו. וְזֶהוּ תִּיקּוּן יוֹם טוֹב לוֹ לָעוֹלָם הַבָּא, וְכָל שֶׁצְוֹנוֹתִיו מְרוּבִּין מִזְּכִיּוֹתִיו דְּקָתָנֵי מְרִיצִין לוֹ הָיִינוּ דְּעָבְדִין לֵיה הַזְמַנַת יוֹם בִּישׁ, שֶׁמְשַׁלְמִין לוֹ שָׂכָר מִצְוֹתִיו כָּאן לִהְיוֹת מְתוּקָן לְיוֹם רֵע לָעוֹלָם הַבָּא.

Rashi explains "a good day and a bad day": One who performs one additional mitzvah, which increases his merits beyond his sins, they prepare a good day for him in this world, meaning he is punished for his sins in this world. This is the preparation of a good day for him in the World-to-Come.

Anyone whose sins outweigh their merits, as stated by the Mishnah, he is treated poorly, meaning that a bad day is prepared for him. He is rewarded for his mitzvot here in this world, so that he is prepared for a bad day in the World-to-Come.

ְהָתּוֹסָפּוֹת הָקְשׁוּ עַל פֵּירוּשׁ זָה, וּפֵרוּשׁ תּוֹסָפּוֹת מַתְנִיתִין דְּעָבְדִין לֵיה יוֹם טָב וָיוֹם בִּישׁ תַּרְנוִיִיהוּ בָּעוֹלָם הַזֶּה, שֶׁלְפְעָמִים מִי שֶׁדְּכִיּוֹתִיו מְרוּבִּין מֵעֲוֹונוֹתָיו עָבְדִין לֵיה יוֹם בִּישׁ וְהָיִינוּ מְרִיעִין לוֹ דְּבְרָיָּיתָא, דְּבָאוֹתוֹ הַיּוֹם דּוֹמֶה פְּאִלוּ שָׁרַף כָּל הַתּוֹרָה כַּלְּה, אֲבָל רֹב יָמֵיו שֶׁל צַדִּיק וְכֵן מִי שֶׁעֲוֹונוֹתָיו מְרוּבִּין לִפְעָמִים עוֹשִׁים לוֹ יוֹם טוֹב וּבְאוֹתוֹ יוֹם דּוֹמֶה כְּאִילוּ קיֵם כָּל הַתּוֹרָה כּוּלְּה, אֲבָל רֹב יָמֵיו שֶׁל צַדִּיק שׁרוּי בַּטוֹבה עכ"ל.

Tosafot challenge this explanation. Tosafot explain: The Mishnah, which states that they treat him with both a good day and a bad day, refers to both of them happening in this world. Sometimes, when a person's merits exceed his sins, he is treated with a bad day, and this is in accordance with the statement in the Baraita, that on that day, it is as if they have burned the entire Torah.

Similarly, when a person's sins exceed their merits, sometimes he experiences a good day, and on that day, it is as if he has fulfilled the entire Torah.

But the majority of a righteous person's days are spent in goodness, and the majority of a wicked person's days are spent suffering.

נִמְצָא לַפֵּירוּשׁ רַשִּׁ"י זַ"ל שֶׁהַחוֹטֵא כְּשֶׁיֵשׁ לוֹ לִירַשׁ הָעוֹלָם הַבָּא מְרִיעִין לוֹ בָּעוֹלָם הַזֶּה וְדוֹמֶה כְּאִלּוּ שָׁרַף אֶת הַתּוֹרָה כְּדֵי לְקִי לוֹ יוֹם טוֹב לָעוֹלָם הַבָּא, וּכְשָׁיֵשׁ לוֹ לִירַשׁ גַּהִינָּם מְטִיבִין לוֹ בָּעוֹלָם הַזֶּה. וּלְפִי דַעַת הַתּוֹסְפוֹת אַף הַחוֹטֵא שָׁיֵשׁ לוֹ לִירַשׁ גַּהִינָּם מְרִיעִין לוֹ גַּם כֵן בְּאֵיזֶה יָמִים, וְכֵן מִי שָׁיֵשׁ לוֹ לִירַשׁ גַּהִינָּם מְרִיעִין לוֹ אַף לִירַשׁ גַּהִינָּם הָצָּה אֶלָּא שֶׁמְיִבִין לוֹ גַּם כֵן בְּאֵיזֶה יָמִים. בָּעוֹלָם הַזָּה אֶלָּא שֶׁמְטִיבִין לוֹ גַּם כֵן בְּאֵיזֶה יָמִים.

According to the explanation of Rashi, of blessed memory, the sinner who is destined to inherit the World-to-Come, because his mitzvot outnumber his sins, is treated with severity in this world, and it is as if he has burned the entire Torah, in order to prepare for him a good day in the World-to-Come. But if he is destined for Gehinnom, because his sins outnumber his mitzvot, they treat him well in this world.

But according to Tosafot, even the sinner who is destined to inherit Gan Eden, because his mitzvot outnumber his sins, is treated well in this world, but they also treat him with severity on some days. Similarly, one who is destined for Gehinnom is treated with severity in this world, but on some days, they treat him well.

וְיַעֲלָב הָתְפַּלֵל לִפְנֵי הקב"ה אָם יִהְיוּ הָצָּרוֹת בָּאוֹת עַל בָּנֵי לֹא חָבִיא אוֹתָם זוֹ אַחַר זוֹ, כְּלוֹמֵר לִיתֵּן לָהֶם בְּעוֹלָם הַנָּה חָּמִיד רָעָה כְּפִי דַּעַת רַשִׁ"י ע"ה הוֹאִיל שֶׁיֵשׁ לָהֶם לֹזְכּוֹת לָעוֹלָם הַבָּא כִּי כָּל יִשְׂרָאֵל יֵשׁ לָהֶם חֵלֶק לָעוֹלָם הַבָּא, אֶלָּא יִהְיָה כְּפֵירוּשׁ הַתּוֹסָפוֹת הַרוּחַ לָהֶם מָצַרוֹתָם תָּן לָהֶם יוֹם טֵב וַיוֹם בִּישׁ.

And Jacob prayed before the Holy One, Blessed be He: "If troubles are to come upon my children, do not bring them one after another," as if to say, to give them constant hardship in this world, according to the interpretation of Rashi, may he rest in peace. This is because they are destined to inherit the World-to-Come, as "all of Israel has a share in the World-to-Come." Rather, let it be according to the explanation of Tosafot, "relieve them from their troubles," meaning give them both a good day and a bad day in this world, rather than uninterrupted hardship.

ַנְעֲדִין צָרִיךְ טַעַם מָה רָאָה יַעֲקֹב לְהָתְפַּלֵּל כָּךְ דַּוְקָא בְּשֶׁעָה הַזֹּאת וּבִזְמַן הַזֶּה. וְגֵשׁ לוֹמֵר דְאָמְרִינָן בְּמִדְרָשׁ רַכָּה עַל הַפֶּסוּק ווַיִּפְרֹץ הָאִישׁ מְאֹד מְאֹד", מְלַמֵּד שָׁנִּפְרְצָה לוֹ פָּרְצָה מֵעֵין הָעוֹלָם הַבָּא עכ"ל. וְאָמֵר יַעֲקֹב, מִתְּחַלָּה כְּשֶׁרָאִתִי שֶׁהקב"ה נוֹתֵן לי טוֹבָה בְּשֶׁפַע גָּדוֹל הָיִיתִי סָבוּר שֶׁמָּא בִּשְׁבִיל שֶׁאֲנִי צַדִּיק גָּמוּר וְאָמְרִינָן בִּבְרָכוֹת צַדִּיק וְטוֹב לוֹ זֶהוּ צַדִּיק גָּמוּר.

Still, it requires explanation why Jacob specifically prayed this way at this moment and time. It can be said that it is explained in Midrash Rabbah (Gen. 73:11) on the verse, "And the man became exceedingly prosperous," that this teaches that a breach was made for him that was a microcosm of the World-to-Come. I.e., Jacob was so blessed with wealth that it was like a peek into the World-to-Come.

Jacob said: At first, when I saw that the Holy One, Blessed be He, was giving me abundant good, I thought it was because I was a completely righteous man. It is said in Berachot (7a), "The righteous have it good," this is referring to a completely righteous person.

אָמְנָם עַתָּה שֶׁאָנִי רוֹאֶה שֶׁבָּאָה לִידֵי צָרָה זוֹ שֶׁל עֵשָׁו וַאָנִי מוּצְרָךְּ לְאַבֵּד וּלְחָסֵר מָמוֹנִי, שְׁמַע מִינָה שֶׁיֵשׁ לִי אֵיזֶה חֵטְא, אוֹ בִּשְׁבִיל מִצְוַת כְּבוֹד אַב וָאֵם שֶׁלֹּא שָׁמַרְתִּי כָּל הַשָּׁנִים הַלָּלוּ, אוֹ לְפִי שֶׁאִחַרְתִּי נִדְרִי כְּמוֹ דְאִיתָא בְּמִדְרָשׁ תַּנְחוּמָא, וְאִילּוּ הָיָה כְּפַרֵשׁ רַשִּׁ"ִי לֹא הָיָה לִי לִזְכּוֹת לְכָל אוֹתָה טוֹבָה, אֶלָּא עַל כָּרְחָךְּ צָרִיךְ לוֹמַר שֶׁאַתָּה מִתְנַהֵג עִמִּי כְּפֵירוּשׁ הַתּוֹסְפוֹת דְּעָבְדִין לֵיה יוֹם טָב וְיוֹם בִּישׁ, וּבְנַדָּאִי שֶׁלְפְעָמִים אַתָּה נוֹהֵג כְּפִי פֵּירוּשׁ רַשִּׁ"ִי, שֶׁהְרֵי אֵלוּ וְאֵלוּ דְּבְרֵי אֱלֹהִים חַיִּים.

However, Jacob thought to himself, now that I see that this trouble has come upon me from Esau, and I am forced to lose and diminish my possessions, I hear from this that I must have some sin. Perhaps it is because I did not properly honor my father and mother all these years,⁴ or because I delayed my vow to bring an offering upon returning to the Land of Israel,⁵ as is stated in Midrash Tanhuma (parashat Vayishlach, siman 8). If it were as Rashi explains, I would not have been deserving of all that goodness.

Therefore, it must be that You are acting toward me according to Tosafot's interpretation, that sometimes You give both a good day and a bad day in this world, for I have great wealth, but sometimes I suffer.

Certainly, at times You act according to Rashi's explanation, because both views are the words of the living G-d. I.e., whenever there is a dispute between Torah scholars, both opinions can be valid. Thus, Jacob felt that G-d was treating him according to the opinion of Tosafot, but he was concerned lest G-d treat his descendants according to the opinion of Tosafot. He prayed that G-d would treat his descendants the same as him, according to Tosafot.

ּוְאֵין לְהַקְשׁוֹת דְּאָם כֵּן מַשׂוֹא פָּנִים יֵשׁ כָּאן שֶׁהָרֵי כְּתִיב "הַצּוּר תָּמִים פָּעֲלוֹ כִּי כָל־דְּרָכִיו מִשְׁפָּט", וְעַל כָּרְחָךְ צָריְךְ לוֹמֵר שָׁמֵּי שְׁיֵשׁ לוֹ הַרְבֵּה עֲבֵירוֹת אֲבָל מִכָּל מִכְּל מִכְּל מִכְּל מְכָּל מְקוֹם זְכִיוֹתִיו מְרוּבִּים מֵעְוֹנוֹתִיו, אַתָּה נוֹהַג עִמּוֹ כְּפַרֵשׁ רִשִׁ"י הוֹאִיל שֶׁיֵשׁ לוֹ הַרְבָּה עֲבֵירוֹת. אֲבָל מִי שֶׁכּוּלוֹ צַדִּיק וְאֵין לוֹ רַק שְׁתַּיִם אוֹ שְׁלשָׁה עֲבֵירוֹת דְּהַיְינוּ מִיעוּטָא דְמִיעוּטָא, אָז אַתָּה נוֹהֵג עִמּוֹ כְּפֵירוּשׁ בְּיִרוֹת, צְּבָל מִי שָׁכּוּלוֹ שָׁהָרָי הְּלָבְלוֹ שֶׁתְּמִים לְכְלָלוּת עַם בָּנִיךְ כָּךְ שֻׁנְּשִׁיתָ עִמִּי. נְּבֶּל מְקוֹם זְכוּת תְּפָלָה זוֹ תּוֹעִיל לְקְרוֹעַ הַגְּזֵר דִין וְלַהְפּוֹךְ הַדִּין לְרַחְמִים לְכְלָלוּת עַם יִשְׁרָאַל.

One should not ask, "Is there favoritism here?" in asking why G-d treats some people according to Rashi's view and others according to the view of Tosafot, for it is written, "The Rock, His work is perfect, for all His ways are justice." Therefore, we must say that when a person has many transgressions but nonetheless, his merits outweigh his sins, You act with him according to Rashi's explanation, since he has many transgressions.

But when someone is completely righteous and has only two or three transgressions, a very small number, then You act with him according to Tosafot's explanation, as You did with me.

From now on, I pray that You always act this way with Your children, even if they have many transgressions. For although Rashi's explanation is also true, this prayer of mine will help tear up the decree and transform the judgment into mercy for the entire Jewish people.

אָמְנָם עַל הַיָּחִיד לֹא הִתְפַּלֵל יַצְלָב אַך אָמְרוּ זַ"ל 'וְחַבּׁתִי אֶת־אֲשֶׁר אָחֹן" אַף עַל פִּי שֶׁאֵינוֹ הָגוּן "וְרַחַמְתִּי אֶת־אֲשֶׁר אֲרַחֵם" אַף עַל פִּי שֻׁאֵינוֹ כְּדָא. וְאַף כָּאן יֵשׁ לְהַקְשׁוֹת שֻׁנְּרָאָה דְּיֵשׁ מַשׁוֹא פָנִים בַּדָּבָר. וּלְפִי דַרְכֵנוּ נִיחָא, שֻׁמִּי שָׁיֵשׁ לוֹ הַרְבָּה עֲבִירוֹת אַף עַל אַבְיל זְכִיּוֹתְיו מְרוּבִּים כְּנְזְכָּר לְעֵיל שֶׁהַדִּין הוּא לְהִתְנַהֵג עַמוֹ כְּפַרֲשׁ רַשְׁ"ר, אָם יִזְדָּרְז עַצְמוֹ בִּתְפַלָּה וְתַחֲנָה אָז "וְחַבּׁתִי" אַף עַל פִּי שֶׁאֵינוֹ הָגוּן. וּמְשׁוּם הָכִי אָמַר "וְחַבּׁתִי" לְשׁוֹן "וָאֶתְחַבַּן", אֲבָל מִי שֶׁיֵשׁ לוֹ מְעַט עֲבֵירוֹת שָׁהַם מִיעוּטָא דְמִיעוּטָא, אֲפִילוּ פִּי שְׁאֵינוֹ הָגוּן וְנוֹהָג עְמוֹ כְּכִירוּשׁ הַתּוֹסְפוֹת. וּבְזֶה מְתוֹרְץ הַכֶּכֶּל שֶׁל "וְחַבֹּתִי."

However, Jacob did not pray for the individual, but for the Nation as a whole. But the Sages said on the verse, "And I will show favor to whom I show favor," this means even if one is not deserving, and regarding the continuation of that verse, "And I will have mercy upon whom I will have mercy," this means even though one is not worthy. 8

Here, it may still seem that there is favoritism in this matter. How can there be justice if G-d is giving leniency to someone who is unworthy? According to our explanation, this is understandable: if a person has many sins but his merits outweigh them, as mentioned earlier, the rule is to treat him according to Rashi's interpretation, whereby he would receive uninterrupted suffering in this world. However, if he prays and entreats, then "I will show favor" even though he is not deserving. I.e., he will have good days and bad days, as per Tosafot. Because of this, G-d said, "and I will show favor" [יְשַׂבְּתַלֵּוֹן [ve'chanoti], which is the language of "And I pleaded [יְשִׁבְּתַבּוֹן] [va'etchanan]." I.e., the similarity of the terms indicates that G-d will extend favor to one who pleads with Him through prayer.

But someone who has only a few sins, which are a very small number, even without prayer, I have mercy on him and treat him according to the interpretation of Tosafot. This explains the apparent repetition of "I will show favor" and "I will have mercy," the first term alludes to prayer, and means that one with many sins will receive favor only if he prays, while the second term means that one with very few sins will receive favor even without prayer.

ְיִוּבֵן נָמֵי מַאי דְּאָמְרינַן בְּסוֹף מַסֵּכַת בְּרָכוֹת אָמַר ר' אָבִין הַלֵּוִי מַאי דְכָתִיב "יַעַנְּדְ ה' בְּיוֹם צָרָה יְשַׂגֶּבְךְ שֵׁם אֱלֹהֵי יַעֲלְב", אֱלֹהֵי יַעֲלְב" וְלֹא אֱלֹהֵי אַבְרָהָם וְיִצְחַק, מִכָּאן לְבַעַל הַקּוֹרָה שָׁיִּכָּנֵס בְּעוֹבֵיה שֶׁל קוֹרָה, וּפֵּרִשׁ רַשִּׁי'ִ כְּּדְ יַעֲלְב סָבַל צַעַר גִּידּוּל בָּנִים וְהָרְבָּה בִּתְפָלוֹת, אַמְטוּ לְהָכִי "יְשַׂגֶּבְךְ שֵׁם אֱלֹהֵי יַעֲלְב", שֶׁהוּא נִקְרָא בַּעַל הַקּוֹרָה וְעָלָיו תָּלוּי לִזְכּוֹת אֶת יִשְׂרָאֵל.

We can also understand what is stated at the end of tractate Berachot: Rabbi Avin haLevi said, "What is the meaning of what is written, 'The L-rd will answer you on the day of trouble; the name of the G-d of Jacob will set you [securely] on high' (Ps. 20:2)? [Why] the G-d of Jacob, and not the G-d of Abraham and Isaac. From here, [we learn that] one who owns a beam should approach [carrying] the thick portion of the beam." I.e., when two people carry a beam, the owner should carry the heavy end.⁹

Rashi explains: Jacob endured the hardships of raising children and many prayers. Therefore, "the name of the G-d of Jacob will set you [securely] on high," for Jacob is called the "owner of the beam," and it is through him that the merit of Israel is sustained.

According to our explanation, "the name of the G-d of Jacob will protect you" makes sense, because Jacob prayed that it should be according to the explanation of Tosafot that "if troubles will befall my descendants, do not bring them one after another, but rather, create distance for them between their troubles."

Therefore, it says, "The L-rd will answer you on the day of trouble," and "the G-d of Jacob" will protect you. To make it clear that this is a benefit, it says "He will set you [securely] on high," that he will elevate you to greatness.

However, Abraham and Isaac did not pray for this. On the contrary, when given a choice between his descendants being punished in Gehinnom or in exile, Abraham chose punishment by the kingdoms and decrees of exile.

Isaac requested suffering in this world, as is evident from the Midrash Gen. Rabbah 65:9 on the verse, "When Isaac was old and his eyes were too dim to see . . ." He did not pray for relief during suffering and troubles.

It is also said in the Midrash Gen. Rabbah 67:7 on the verse, "Yet by your sword you shall live, and you shall serve your brother; but when you grow restive, you shall break his yoke from your neck" (Gen. 27:40): Rabbi Yosi ben Chalafta said, this means, if you see your brother casting off the yoke of the Torah, and you have the power to dominate him, you should impose upon him a decree of persecution. This is what is meant by the verse, "Surely, You are our Father, though Abraham regard us not, and Israel recognize us not." But where is Isaac in this verse? Regarding one who says, "Impose upon [Jacob] a decree of persecution," should he be mentioned with the other patriarchs? I.e., because Isaac accepted suffering, rather than praying for relief, he is not mentioned.

Thus, Abraham and Isaac sought suffering so that the Jewish people would be spared from Gehennom, following the opinion of Rashi. In contrast, Jacob followed the opinion of Tosafot, and prayed for a break between intervals of suffering.
